

MAYOR BOXTON TESTIFIES AT TRIAL OF LOUIS GLAS

JAPANESE ADMIRAL HOPES WAR TALK WILL SOON CEASE

'Question for America to Settle, Not for Us to Express Opinion,' Says Official of Mikado.

NEW YORK, July 10.—"I think the friendly relations of long-standing between the United States and Japan should be preserved and the passing storm disappear in the waters of the Pacific Ocean. I firmly believe this one incident cannot be thrown in the way of present relations between the two countries, which began at the time of my birth."

Thus spoke Admiral Baron Gombel Yamamoto, Japanese director of marine during the Japanese-Russian war, as a greeting to the American people today on his arrival here with his suite on board the steamship Carmania. Admiral Yamamoto has been in Europe inspecting the gun factories and navy yards, and while here he will visit our navy yards and shipbuilding plants. He was met at Quarantine by Lieutenant R. W. Henderson, representing Rear Admiral Goodrich, commander of the New York navy yard, and who

CAPTAIN DROWNED

Think That Body Is That of an Aged Mariner.

ALAMEDA, July 10.—Captain Nye this afternoon identified the body at the branch morgue here, which was found floating in the bay Monday, as that of Captain Walston.

ALAMEDA, July 10.—The body of the unidentified man found in the bay at the south of the Alameda mole on Monday, and which is now at the branch morgue in this city, answered in every particular the person of Captain W. H. Walston, an aged mariner, who disappeared from Oakland on Sunday. Yesterday the disappearance of the sea captain was reported to the Oakland police by Captain R. W. Nye of the steamer Guy Head, alongside which vessel the California, of which the missing captain was master, is anchored in the estuary. When the body was found Monday, the pockets of the clothing were turned inside out, and there was no watch or any jewelry on the person of the man. When he disappeared he had $25 on his person, and is said to have worn a quantity of jewelry. Captain Walston is well known along the Pacific coast. Sunday when he left his ship he stated he was going to San Francisco, and his failure to return and the finding of the body which answers his description has given rise to the belief that he was drowned.

APPEAL TO PRESIDENT

Roosevelt Expected to Settle Trouble in Oakland.

WEST OAKLAND, July 10.—All strike action that has been contemplated by President Small of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America will be deferred until Friday night, when Labor Commissioner Neill is expected to arrive from Chicago. President Small and Commissioner Neill will then endeavor to bring about a settlement of the strike between the telegraph companies.

WILL TRY TO SETTLE.
All are waiting further developments which have been postponed on account of the expected arrival of Commissioner Neill, who, it is looked forward to, will have some influence in bringing about an amicable settlement of the telegraphers' strike. President Small wired to Chicago last night contradicting the statement that he would be present at a meeting in that city on Sunday. He will call a strike in Chicago, it is believed, if a settlement is not arrived at this week. The union telegraphers in Chicago stated in a recent telegram to President Small that they would be ready to walk out on strike at a moment's notice. They are heartily in sympathy with the telegraphers of San Francisco and Oakland, who are fighting for 25 per cent increase in wages.

WIRES ROOSEVELT.
Late last night President Small sent a personal telegram to President Roosevelt wherein he clearly stated the vital points of the strike, and explained that Assistant General Superintendent Miller of the Western Union Telegraph Company refused to meet the committee of telegraphers yesterday, Miller declaring that he could only receive the operators as individuals and refusing to recognize them as union telegraphers. The striking operators are eagerly awaiting for President Roosevelt to intercede for them in the present trouble. It is feared by many of the striking telegraphers that the strike will grow into a national affair.

Falls Three Stories And Is Uninjured

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Frank Murray, a carpenter, who lives in the refugee camp on Jefferson square, fell from the third story of a new building on Grove street this morning. He alighted on a large pile of sand, and was taken to the Receiving Hospital. On examination it was found that he had sustained no injuries further than a severe shaking, and was discharged.

Believe Woman Got $20,000 From Loot

CHICAGO, July 10.—Florence Wood, alias Florence Moore, the sister of Mrs. Laura H. Carter, who betrayed Chester B. Runyan, the defaulting teller of the Windsor Trust Company of New York, today declared that she is willing to return to New York without extradition proceedings. Miss Wood is believed by the New York police to have received more than $20,000 of the money said to have been taken by Runyan. In her possession when arrested last night were found $200 six bank books and five safe deposit keys.

Saratoga Chips Originator Dies

NEW YORK, July 10.—Hiram C. Thomas, a negro, who originated the saratoga chips, and was a noted chef, is dead at his home near Red Bank, N. J. He was 70 years old.

SCHMITZ DENIED BAIL

Superior Judge Dunne Threatens
To Send Attorney Fairall to Jail

TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Mayor Schmitz was this morning denied bail by Judge Dunne. The court decided briefly that there were no merits in the petition.

A battle of words occurred between Judge Dunne and Attorney Fairall, who represented the mayor.

"If you do not conduct yourself properly I will send you to jail where you belong," said Judge Dunne to Attorney Fairall.

"I do not belong in jail any more than you do," retorted Mr. Fairall.

"Any counsel ought to be in jail who does not conduct themselves with proper dignity," said Judge Dunne.

"I agree with that," replied the attorney, getting control of himself, "and I do now conduct myself with dignity."

He then continued to read the petition of his client.

Attorney Fairall went to the court rough-shod in his opening argument. He referred to the election of Dr. Boxton as an act of doubtful procedure on the part of Judge Dunne.

"Your honor knows that the judgment against the defendant cannot be acted upon, as it is rendered ineffective by the notice of appeal. How could your honor order the election of another mayor under these circumstances?"

"You knew that judgment could not be enacted, therefore you sent a letter."

Here Attorney Hiram W. Johnson, representing the District Attorney, intervened and asked the court if it was the intention to try the case of who is the present Mayor of San Francisco. Judge Dunne replied in the negative. Attorney Fairall turned upon Mr. Johnson.

BROODING MAN TRIES IN VAIN TO END LIFE

Worrying over the death of his two children who died at Portland recently within the space of a few days of each other, Albert J. Schmidt became so distracted that he attempted suicide. He left the northern city and visited in Melrose with his brother Louis. While on the visit to this county he tried to commit suicide by jumping in the San Pablo bay. This attempt was unsuccessful, and next he tried to injure himself on the head in a way that death would result. His head still bears a large scar where he inflicted a wound with some blunt instrument. Finding nothing that would quiet the man, Louis Schmidt charged him with insanity. This morning Schmidt was examined before Judge Wells by Drs. Reine and Riggan. They found him to be slightly demented. His brother asked that he be sent to his former home at Portland rather than to an insane asylum. This request was granted by the court.

TECHNICAL BATTLE OVER ADMITTING BOODLER'S STORY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—The District Court of Appeals this afternoon granted a writ of mandamus against Judge Dunne commanding him immediately to fix a date for settlement and to settle the bills of exception in the Schmitz case or to show cause why he has not done so. The writ is returnable on the 12th.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Dr. Charles Boxton who was, late yesterday afternoon, made mayor of San Francisco by the Board of Supervisors, at the instance of the graft prosecution, went on the witness stand in Judge Lawlor's court today at the trial of Louis Glass, the telephone company official charged with having given Mayor Boxton, then a supervisor, a bribe of $5000.

Mayor Boxton was called to the stand as the first witness for the prosecution. He had no sooner taken the stand than Attorney Delmas rose to object to the progress of the case on the ground that the motion had been made in similar cases to dismiss the indictments. Judge Lawlor ruled that the trial should proceed.

The first question related to the incumbency of Boxton in the office of Supervisor. Attorney Delmas objected to all questions along this line, but was overruled.

"In June, 1905, do you remember any proceedings concerning the sale of a telephone franchise?" asked Mr. Heney.

Delmas objected and Mr. Heney withdrew the question, the grounds being that the records should be the evidence.

Mr. Heney then asked about the records of the Board of Supervisors and Attorney Delmas agreed that they were destroyed by fire.

"Was there a public utility committee?" asked Mr. Heney.

Attorney Delmas objected, but the court overruled the objection.

"Yes, sir."

"In 1905 did that committee have before its consideration any telephone franchise?"

Objection by Attorney Delmas.

The court overruled the objection.

"Yes, sir."

"Do you recollect the name of the applicant?"

Objection by Delmas that the application must have been in writing and should be the evidence.

"Was there a paper entitled 'An application for a franchise?'"

Objection by Delmas. The court allowed the question.

"Yes. Two or more."

"What has become of those papers?"

"To the best of my knowledge they were destroyed by the fire."

"Could you distinguish those papers?"

"No."

"Call one of them No. 1 and tell us what it contained."

"I can only tell in a general way."

"State to the best of your recollection what those papers contained."

Attorney Delmas objected and Judge Lawlor sustained him.

Attorney Heney protested.

There was a sharp argument as to whether the witness might be questioned further.

The court took up the questioning and ascertained that the witness could identify the paper, or an application for a telephone franchise. "Was it in the name of anyone?" "The Home Telephone Company."

Accuses Santa Fe Of Granting Rebates

CHICAGO, July 10.—An indictment charging the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad with granting rebates amounting to $12,000 to the United States Sugar Beet company, of Garden City, Kansas, was returned today by the grand jury in the United States district court. The indictment contains six counts, each one relating to an alleged infringement of the law and the company, if convicted, is subject to a maximum of $1,000,000 or a minimum fine of $50,000.

Forty May Be Dead In Building Ruins

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—The Briggaman building, a four-story structure in course of construction in Fourteenth street and Washington avenue, in the southwestern section of the city, collapsed this afternoon, carrying a number of workmen with it. It is believed at least fifteen were buried in the ruins.

MOYER ON STAND GIVES LIE TO ORCHARD'S TALE

Haywood's Companion in Prison Denies Ever Giving Steunenberg's Slayer Money for Vindicator Crime or Discussing it With Him.

BOISE, Idaho, July 10.—Charles E. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, and fellow-defendant of William D. Haywood in the indictment charging them with the murder of Frank Steunenberg, was sworn today as a witness in behalf of his comrade.

He was called by the defense at 10:15 this morning and was escorted into the courtroom by a deputy sheriff. He seemed quite self-possessed, and as he walked to the stand looked around the courtroom, apparently seeking a glimpse of his wife, who occupied an inconspicuous chair behind one of the press tables. He displayed some nervousness as his examination began, but within a few minutes was going very steadily in a recital of his connection with the Western Federation of Miners.

During the review of the Coeur d'Alene strike of 1899 the witness said he was in sympathy with the strikers in their struggle, but never had any personal hostility for Frank Steunenberg. In describing his duties Moyer declared that they required that he be absent from Denver—plotting ground of the conspiracy as alleged by the State—more than half the time.

TELLS OF STRIKE.

Shortly before noon the witness entered upon a lengthy examination as to the Cripple Creek strike of 1903-04. Moyer, with the utmost deliberation, denied that he had ever discussed the explosion at the Vindicator mine as detailed by Orchard in his evidence. He admitted having met Orchard in Denver during a labor convention in January, 1904. He had also seen him at Cripple Creek in February, 1904, when he became fairly well acquainted with him. Moyer denied that at any time he had given Orchard any sum of money, or at any time had any knowledge of Orchard having been given any money by any officer of the Western Federation of Miners.

Moyer detailed his trip to Ouray, Colorado, with Orchard in 1904. He said Orchard was going there to get work and Moyer suggested that they travel together. This was for "self-protection because of attacks on members of the organization. He described their arrangements for carrying revolvers and "sawed-off shotguns," which he said were secured by Pettibone. Orchard, Moyer said, bought his own ticket, but Moyer paid his expenses and hotel bill.

JUDGE DUNNE DENIES BAIL TO SCHMITZ

son and warned him that he would not be interrupted.

DUNNE TAKES A HAND.

Judge Dunne then took a hand in the proceedings. During the exchange of compliments that followed, Attorney Fairall said:

"The court has no right to pass impressions upon the character of an attorney appearing here. The court removes itself from those considerations to which it is ordinarily entitled when it does so."

In passing on the application for bail, Judge Dunne asked Attorney Fairall if he would argue the same grounds before the defendant a bank president, whom he wished to free to attend to his duties.

"I don't think the case would be the same," replied Mr. Fairall. "In my opinion," said Judge Dunne, "the defendant is not the Mayor. However, without passing on that question here, the petition seems to be without merit."

CAUSES SENSATION.

In closing the proceedings Judge Dunne sprang another sensation by advising District Attorney Langdon to investigate Mayor Schmitz' previous application to the Appellate Court for bail and its subsequent withdrawal. "I am informed," said Judge Dunne, "that in that petition the defendant represented that he was suffering from an incurable disease. No such argument is offered here. There are ugly rumors about the matters that have been pursued by the defendant in his attempt to secure liberty. It seems that a species of fraud may have been practiced on that court."

Attorney Fairall protested. Judge Dunne cut him short.

"I cannot help it if it does reflect upon the counsel," said the Judge.

FAIRALL IS ANGRY.

"Nothing reflects on me," retorted Attorney Fairall hotly. "And nothing shall reflect on me," said the Judge.

Attorney Fairall hinted after the adjournment of court that he should take some steps to settle his quarrel with Judge Dunne. He did not say whether he would resort to legal actions or other means.

"You'll hear of it when it happens," was all the explanation he gave. The Mayor fled out of court with his attorneys and was taken back to the county jail, where he must remain now until his appeal is acted upon.

Schmitz, through his attorneys, today filed an application in the District Court of Appeals for a writ of mandamus to compel Judge Dunne to settle their bill of exceptions, alleging that he had refused to set a day for the proceeding.

HALSEY'S NEW MOVE.

The attorneys for T. V. Halsey, one of the indicted telephone officials, applied to the same court for a writ of prohibition to restrain Judge Dunne from trying the case, the ground of the application being that the indictments were illegally drawn.

MISS DAISY CAMPBELL—she will marry George W. Austin, the real estate dealer, tomorrow.

DEAD MAN FALLS OUT WHEN CLOSET OPENS

A dead man tumbled almost into the arms of Mrs. J. B. Emerson when she opened the closet door in a vacant house, which she was inspecting, late yesterday afternoon. At least this is the report received at police headquarters last night.

Mrs. Emerson and her companions, Mrs. Calvis Eilers and Mrs. Jas. Blaizdel, left the house immediately and went to the Richardson home at Eleventh and Castro streets. Here they remained all the afternoon, and reported the affair to no one until Mrs. Richardson's husband returned home at about 10 o'clock in the evening. Then the gruesome story was recounted and he immediately reported the matter to the police.

Sergeant Byrne and Deputy Coroner Sargent went to the house, 464 Twentieth street, shortly before midnight, but could find no trace of the corpse. The door which the women had opened was found closed and the closet was empty.

When seen at her home this morning Mrs. Richardson denied the story, but could give no explanation of the police report other than that it was a joke. The police are at a loss to account for the occurrence.

MAYOR BOXTON ON THE WITNESS STAND

"How did you become acquainted with T. V. Halsey?"

Objection by Delmas sustained.

"Did he say anything about his business when you first met him?"

An objection was sustained.

"Did you meet Mr. Halsey before you were a Supervisor?"

"No, sir."

"When did you learn that Mr. Halsey was connected with the Sunset Telephone company?"

Objection by Delmas sustained.

There was a tilt between Delmas and Halsey about hair-splitting technicalities in which it was suggested that it might take two weeks to get through with the first witness.

The jury was then excused in order that Judge Lawlor might come to an understanding about the line of evidence to be introduced.

The jury was then sent out to luncheon to the Fairmont Hotel.

The trial opened this morning with a statement by the prosecution. Mr. Halsey in his statement told of the methods by which the supervisors were brought into communication with the telephone company.

John Crouse, assistant to Theo. V. Halsey, general manager of the company, was according to Halsey's statement, the go-between. He went out and invited the supervisors to come to the telephone building, showed them about and afterwards took them out to lunch, at which there was plenty of wine.

STORY OF THE ROOM.

Then came the story of the hiring of the room in the Mills building for the purpose of paying over the alleged bribes. Crouse is apparently a star witness for the prosecution. He is to tell how the Supervisors came to room in the Mills building and received their money. He is to tell how many Supervisors came there to get their money.

Mr. Halsey described the room, told how the Supervisors came there in response to telephone calls by Mr. Halsey. Mr. Halsey was so busy on the day the bribes were paid, that he took but fifteen minutes for lunch. The supervisors are to tell what took place in the room when the envelope containing $5000 was handed over.

BOXTON'S TESTIMONY.

Boxton is to tell how he visited these rooms several times, and was told he would get as much as any of the other supervisors. He will tell how Coffee and Lonergan paid back half of the money they received because they afterward changed their votes in favor of the Home Company.

Mr. Halsey then went into the financial affairs of the telephone company, showing how Mr. Glass was connected with the payment of the money. The bribe fund, it is to be shown, was carried on a tag, and that Halsey returned to this account the money received back from Coffee and Lonergan.

Boxton, now mayor, is to testify that he received his $5000 at the office of the telephone company, Mr. Halsey remarking:

"I am sorry I could not do any better for you."

"I am sorry I could not do any better for you."

HERE IS THE STORY OF HOW CHARLES BOXTON TOOK BRIBES

MAYOR CONFESSED TO TAKING BRIBES!

Will Appear as a Witness Against Louis Glass, Now on Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Declaring that Eugene E. Schmitz was no longer mayor of San Francisco, by reason of his conviction and sentence to five years on a charge of extortion, the Board of Supervisors, at a meeting yesterday afternoon, by a vote of ten to two, elected Dr. Charles Boxton as mayor after he had resigned from the board.

It is stated by the graft prosecution that Boxton had been made mayor to avoid legal complications, and that he would remain in office only a few days. It is proposed by the graft prosecution to depose Boxton and select a mayor by representatives in equal numbers of labor and employers.

PLAN SUBMITTED TO LABOR ORGANIZATIONS.

This plan is being submitted to the several labor organizations today. According to the plan mapped out the citizens of San Francisco will be called upon to select the mayor. The Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants Association, the Merchants Exchange, the Board of Trade and the Real Estate Board will be asked to name three delegates each, the Labor Council eight and the Building Trades Council seven, making thirty in all, divided equally among the commercial and labor organizations. These associations will be asked to name their representatives by Saturday and so soon thereafter as possible they will meet in conference to select the new chief executive of the city. This having been done, Boxton will resign and the way cleared for the new regime.

HERE IS WHAT MADE BOXTON FAMOUS.

Dr. Charles Boxton, until he entered the political arena, was a practicing dentist with a modest office over a druggist's shop on Powell and Post streets. He was a member of the National Guard and as such saw service in the Philippines during the Spanish war. He returned here with the title of major.

Then it was that Phil Cummins took hold of him and put him into politics, with the result that in the election of 1901, when Eugene E. Schmitz was first returned mayor of San Francisco, the name of Charles Boxton appeared at the head of the polls among the Supervisorial candidates, the dentist receiving upwards of 21,000 votes. He was re-elected in 1903, and two years later, though repudiated by his old Republican party in fusion with the Democrats, he was again swept into office by the great tidal wave of Union Labor.

BOXTON TO TESTIFY AGAINST GLASS.

He undoubtedly enjoyed a great political opportunity, considering his war record and his personal popularity in this city. The votes he received every time he went to the polls make this fact clear. Today he stands before the people as the first Supervisor called before the Grand Jury to lay bare the story of official corruption, and it is he whose name appears as chief witness upon the particular indictment on which Vice-President Louis Glass of the Pacific Telephone combine now stands on trial before Judge Lawlor and for his vote to prevent a rival telephone concern from purchasing a franchise to enter the field of competition in San Francisco.

As stated, he was popular. In the tenderloin district, where the sports and promoters of prizefights most do congregate, it is even said he was "easy." There are a few tales told around town which, if true, show Dr. Charles Boxton up as a man willing to take almost anything in the shape of ready money. The prizefight permit has been awarded constantly with his signature, and at the ringside the comely form and curly hair of the soldier-dentist have been ever conspicuous. And the Coffroths and the Graneys of the ring have been laughing around town their stories of the small sums it took to obtain the good will of the prosecution's mayor in their multifarious enterprises.

BOXTON CONFESSES TO BRIBE.

Mayor Charles Boxton, after being caught, cheerfully owned up to taking

- A $5000 bribe from the Telephone Company.
- A $750 bribe from the Gas Company.
- A $4000 bribe from the Trolley Company.
- A $500 bribe from the fight trust.

These things the present mayor of San Francisco admitted under oath before the Grand Jury.

They were the only bribes he was asked about, but along Fillmore street they tell of his taking $30 for a small fight permit.

They also speak of his getting eight silver dollars from a saloon-keeper who was willing to pay that amount for an official favor.

It is narrated that an overcoat paid for one of Boxton's official acts.

Besides these tales of our mayor's financial efforts there are others, one that somebody got a permit and paid for it with a handful of drink checks.

WHAT TVEITMOE THINKS OF BOXTON.

After the election of Charles Boxton to the office of mayor, Supervisors Tveitmoe and O'Neil did not conceal their displeasure. Tveitmoe said:

"The proceedings are an outrage upon the citizens of San Francisco. I cannot see the difference between a mayor convicted by a jury and a self-convicted mayor elected by ten of his colleagues in crime under the pressure of a penitentiary door ajar.

"If the prosecution were sincere in its profession for civic decency and reform in municipal government it would not retain the confessions on the Board of Supervisors in office for the purpose of 'doing politics' while the affairs of the city are allowed to go to rack and ruin.

"San Francisco and its people have been humiliated beyond endurance. Our citizens have reached the point where patience has ceased to be a virtue. When two or three men get together in a back parlor and appoint a mayor for a great city and then order out more of their chattel slaves to elect him, it is about time

'I REGRET CONDITIONS THAT MADE ME MAYOR,' SAYS INCUMBENT

After his appointment by the Board of Supervisors, Dr. Charles Boxton had the following to say:

"Though I am now mayor, I hardly know what to say, the honor thrust upon me is so unexpected. I didn't know they were considering me until this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The members of the board requested me to take the position and I accepted.

"I am to be mayor only temporarily, until some other man is selected to take my place. I regret very much the conditions that have brought this appointment about. However, I hope the people of San Francisco will have no fault to find with me for the short time I am to occupy the chair.

"As to what changes I will make in the commissions of the city and county I have nothing to say. No, I cannot now express any views or opinions on the policy I will follow while I am the mayor of the city and county."

the will of the people was heard. It will be heard at the next election and in no uncertain manner."

O'Neil said: "Dr. Boxton has my sympathy. I am certain that he accepted this doubtful honor under compulsion. All circumstances considered, the temporary position cannot be agreeable to him. It is hardly worth while to discuss Boxton. Of much importance to the citizens of San Francisco are the methods which the wielders of the big stick have seen fit to adopt in order to work their will with respect to the control of the city government.

"It seems to me that the action taken yesterday will be condemned without reservation by the citizens generally. It is my opinion that the so-called graft prosecution would have better served the interests of the community and of all their contentions that politics in no respect controlled their action had these gentlemen permitted the sixteen so-called boodling members of the Board of Supervisors to resign and replace them with citizens of known probity and intelligence.

"I know that these men have not been permitted to resign and that they act, not of their own volition, but in accordance with the dictates of the big stick. The entire proceeding is disgraceful. What the next step in the program will be is a mystery to me, but I trust that it will be more in accord with the sentiments of the community than that which they did yesterday."

extended Admiral Goodrich's greeting. Admiral Yamamoto, on the occasion of his arrival took an opportunity to deny the reports from Tokio that the leadership of the progressive government party would fall upon his return home, and that efforts would be made to overthrow the Satono ministry. He declined to express an opinion on the intention of the United States government to send a large fleet of warships from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. The Admiral will take luncheon with President Roosevelt on Friday at Oyster Bay.

The admiral received numerous dispatches on board the Camarillo at quarantine, and after he had read them he received the newspaper men. He is of short stature and compact figure with iron gray hair. A long gray beard did not conceal a smile which played about his face during the interview.

BURDEN ON AMERICA.

For the reporters the admiral answered each question first with an expanding smile. His replies were in Japanese, which were interpreted by an American. When asked what he thought of the intention of the United States government to send a fleet of all our battleships to the Pacific Coast, Admiral Yamamoto, smiling broadly, said:

"I, myself, have no bad feeling against the United States; but it is a question for Americans to answer and not for us to express an opinion.

"American is a country which has been very friendly to us for years; in fact the treaty between this country and Japan was made at the time I was born. It is an old feeling of friendship which I do not think a passing storm can interfere with; but it depends upon the pens of the press to smooth the storm.

Admiral Yamamoto seemed to regard as a joke the report from Tokio that on his return Count Okuma would ask him to take up the leadership of the progressive party with a view of overthrowing the Satono ministry, and after a hearty laugh said:

"I have already accepted one cabinet position in my country and am quite tired out. My business now is the sword by my side. Political parties have no interest for me."

The Admiral said that much depended upon the attitude taken by the press upon the present situation.

"Too much care cannot be taken by the press," continued Admiral Yamamoto, "for a few careless words will do more harm than good. There are many sensational papers, both here and in Japan, and I ask the editors to make a thorough study of the situation before writing their views."

The Admiral may make an informal call on President Roosevelt today at Oyster Bay after he has received the official salute of Admiral Evans, commanding the Atlantic fleet, and Admiral Goodrich, commanding the New York navy yard.

For the purpose of sprinkling the boulevard and streets in the vicinity of Lake Merritt, the Board of Public Works today adopted a recommendation to the city council that $300 be appropriated to erect a pump near the lake to pump salt water and fill the cars. The superintendent of streets will direct the placing of the pump if the appropriation is made.

CONVICTS MAN OF ASSAULT

Alvin Eddy, Alleged Assailant of Ethel Hergaton to Receive Sentence Soon.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Alvin Eddy, accused of criminally attacking Ethel Hergaton on the night of April 19, was yesterday convicted in Judge Cook's court.

The girl broke down when telling her story, but Eddy appeared unconcerned during the entire proceedings. Eddy will appear before Judge Cook for sentence on Monday. The penalty is from one to fourteen years.

CONDUCTOR RUNS RAILROAD IN TWO SOUTHERN TOWNS

Peculiar Condition of Mojave and Milltown Line Is Revealed by Law Suit for the Settlement of $11,500.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 10.—Judgment for $11,500 was entered in the Superior Court yesterday against the Mojave and Milltown Railroad company in favor of Martin Pinney. Pinney had given the company a twenty-four year lease on a ferry location on the Colorado river, near Needles, the company to pay $500 annually, and failing to meet the rental when due, the entire twenty years' rent was then payable. The railroad failed to pay the rental for three years. Owing to the impossibility of serving a summons on the officials, Senator H. M. Willis, for Pinney, served the Secretary of State.

This railroad extends from the Arizona side of the Colorado river opposite Needles to the Leland mines in the San Francisco mining district, a distance of eighteen miles. For many months it has been operated by the conductor and engineer of its only train, who, failing to receive their salaries, seized the railroad, and have been acting in the capacity of president, traffic manager and general advertising agent, collecting fares and freight charges, purchasing fuel, paying off indebtedness and assuming entire control of every department.

WOMAN AND CORONER FIGHT OVER CHINESE

MRS. E. J. HENDERSON, who quarreled with coroner.

Wife of Undertaker Tells Tisdale She Has Revolver and May Put It to Use.

A bitter feud has sprung up between Coroner Tisdale and Mrs. E. J. Henderson, who, with her husband, conducts an undertaking establishment on Webster street. The trouble started with the death of Quonk Jon, a forlorn Chinese, who died without medical attendance on Monday afternoon. Henderson was notified and he removed the body from the death-chamber at 362 Fifth street to his parlors.

Late in the evening he called up Deputy Coroner Sargent and asked him when an inquest would be held. Sargent referred the matter to Coroner Tisdale, who claimed that he should have been notified of the death before the body was disturbed. After consulting District Attorney Brown the Coroner, accompanied by Deputy Coroner Sargent, Deputy Coroner Robinson, Deputy Sheriff Liese, and Attorney Harry W. Fulkner, went to Henderson's place for the purpose of removing the corpse to the Morgue. They were met at the door by Mrs. Henderson.

"Don't you dare touch that body," she cried, "my husband is not here, and you can't take away the body without authority from the dead man's relatives."

SHERIFF ISSUES ORDER.
Deputy Sheriff Liese explained that he had order from the District Attorney to convey the remains to the Morgue.

PROMISES GUN-PLAY.
"If you do," said Mrs. Henderson, "there may be more dead men around here. I have a revolver up there."

Attorney Fulkner attempted to smooth matter over by explaining that in the eyes of the law the body properly belongs at the Morgue until after an inquest is held, when it may be removed by the relatives of the deceased.

But Mrs. Henderson refused to be convinced, and the police left that if he would remove his glasses she would smack his face for his pains. Whereupon the prudent attorney, deeming discretion advisable, retreated to the rear portion of the parlors.

Finding, after further conversation with Mrs. Henderson, that she could not be induced to change her views, the Coroner ordered his assistants to remove the body anyhow, and it was whisked away in the Morgue wagon.

When Mrs. Henderson saw what was being done she sped upstairs in search of her revolver, but before she could find it the marauding party had disappeared.

ANOTHER CORPSE.
"If I could have found that gun in time," said Mrs. Henderson afterward, "they would have had more than one man to carry out of here."

"There is no excuse for their action," she continued. "My husband has been perfectly justified in removing the body, provided that he notified the Coroner. This was done as soon as the body arrived here."

The law upon which the Coroner based his action reads as follows: "That no one shall interfere with or remove the body of any person who has died without a doctor in attendance, or who has met a violent or mysterious death."

Coroner Tisdale declares that Henderson has on several occasions disregarded this ordinance, and that he intends to secure its enforcement in the future.

IS COUNTING CASH.
BERKELEY, July 10.—Expert accountant Fox began his work in the town hall this morning and is now counting the cash and expending the cash-books of the various departments. He was engaged several weeks ago to do this work as soon as the fiscal year of 1906-1907 closed, and will take several days to complete the work.

MORRISEY WILL NOT STATE HIS MISSION

F. H. Morrisey, the international representative of the Brotherhood of railway trainmen, arrived in Oakland last night from the east, and went immediately into conference with the officials here. He refused to state the import of his visit, but intimated that it had to do with the agreement known as the Chicago schedule, which was adopted last fall.

Mr. Morrisey attended the meeting of the Western Shore Lodge No. 71 of the Brotherhood last night, and at its conclusion, said:

"My visit here is a purely peaceful one and I will be here some time. I expect to confer with the railroad officials of the coast and want to talk over minor details of our working agreement with them."

Meetings between Morrisey and L. H. Ingram, general superintendent of the coast division, and E. Buckingham, general superintendent of the Oregon Short Line, already have been arranged. It is understood that R. M. McIntyre, chairman of the grievance committee of the trainmen's organization, will also take part in the conferences.

BACKACHE AND DESPONDENCY

Are both symptoms of organic derangement, and nature's warning to women of a trouble which will sooner or later declare itself.

How often do we hear women say, "It seems as though my back would break." Yet they continue to drag along and suffer with aches in the small of the back, pain low down in the side, dragging sensations, nervousness and no ambition.

They do not realize that the back is the main-spring of woman's organism and quickly indicates by aching a diseased condition of the feminine organs or kidneys, and that aches and pains will continue until the cause is removed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

made from native roots and herbs has been for many years the most successful remedy in such cases. No other medicine has such a record of cures of feminine ills.

Miss Lena Nagel, of 117 Morgan St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:—"I was completely worn out and on the verge of nervous prostration. My back ached all the time. I had dreadful periods of pain, was subject to fits of crying and extreme nervousness, and was always weak and tired. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures Female Complaints, such as Backache, Pulling and Displacement, and all Organic Diseases. Dissolves and expels Tumors at an early stage. It strengthens and tones the Stomach. Cures Headache and Indigestion and invigorates the whole feminine system.

HASTEN TO DENY JAPAN PLANS ATTACK ON COAST

Severe Condemnation of American Navy by Admiral Sakamoto Withdrawn and High Praise Will Be Substituted.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—From the State Department and from the Japanese Embassy here came swift and conclusive denial today of the accuracy of the statement cabled from The Hague to the London Daily Telegraph and reprinted in this country to the effect that Japan has made categorical demands upon the United States government for satisfaction in connection with the treatment of Japanese in San Francisco and has served notice of her intention to deal with the Californians herself if the national government fails to do so.

At the State Department it is said that the American public is fully aware of the nature of all the exchanges that have taken place on this subject; that there has been no correspondence of recent date, and that there are no negotiations in progress between the two governments.

DENY AOKI'S RECALL.
This statement is fully confirmed at the Japanese embassy where, moreover, it is positively stated that Ambassador Aoki is not going to Japan next fall, as was reported in a Japanese newspaper.

TOKIO, July 10.—The report that Ambassador Aoki will return home is officially denied.

TOKIO, July 10.—The Nichi Nichi prints a statement this morning to the effect that Viscount Aoki, Japanese Ambassador at Washington, is expected to return to Japan next October.

TAKES IT BACK.
TOKIO, July 10.—The Hochi will tomorrow withdraw the interview with Admiral Sakamoto, in which the latter was quoted as saying that American naval officers were brilliant social figures, but deficient in professional training and practice and that the crews of American ships would desert rather than fight Japan.

Simultaneously with the withdrawal of this interview the Hochi will publish an anonymous interview with a Japanese naval expert, highly eulogistic of the efficiency of the present American navy and the high standard of its gunnery.

IN FANTASTIC GARB AUTO DRIVERS START ON RUN

Eighty-one Cars Are Entered in the Big Glidden Trophy Event of 1907 in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, July 10.—Through a tunnel of closely packed and cheering spectators, 300 men and women in fantastic automobile garb glided away from Cleveland this morning in the first of the Glidden trophy of 1907.

At the far end of the crowded square the cars turned and slowly moved past the starting stand, paused a moment and then were off. From 7 o'clock, when the first car went away, until the last one was speeding westward, there was imminent danger that somebody would be killed. The crowd, intensely interested, overlapped the radiators and steps of the automobiles.

EIGHTY-ONE CARS.
In all, eighty-one cars started upon the tour, including the official car carrying Charles J. Glidden, giver of the trophy, which was the origin of the run and Chairman Frank B. Hower, who gives the Hower trophy for touring runabouts. The cars will cover about 1000 miles upon the trip, the first stop being at Toledo, Chicago, Columbus, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and New York, and will be in the order named. No racing will be allowed upon the trip, the pace being limited to not more than twenty miles an hour.

ANTLERED HERD DEPARTS FOR OLD PHILADELPHIA

When Train Pulls Out of Oakland Coaches
Are Loaded Down With Beautiful and Fragrant Flowers.

The delegation of Elks from Alameda county left yesterday afternoon for the grand lodge of Elks, which is to be in session in Philadelphia from July 15th to 18th. The train consisted of three sleepers, one observation car and a diner. Other cars will be added at Reno and Ogden.

The party is headed by Past Exalted Ruler L. H. Clay of the Oakland lodge, and is will undoubtedly be the chairman of the California delegation. James M. Shanley, chairman of the committee on transportation, and Captain M. E. Freeman, secretary of the same committee, arranged for the special train and its appointments, and will accompany the party as far as Reno. Mr. Shanley is unable to go to Philadelphia owing to the fact that he has just recovered from a serious illness.

FLOWERS IN PROFUSION.
The local lodge of Elks presented the women of the party with enough flowers to decorate the entire train. A large number of the members of the local lodge were at the depot to speed their brethren on their way. Judge Henry A. Melvin is grand exalted ruler of the Elks. He is carrying on the train for Philadelphia on July 1 to prepare for the session of the grand lodge. Judge Melvin is to be presented with an oil portrait of himself, done by a California artist.

An appropriation of $100,000 has been made by the city of Philadelphia for the illumination of the streets and other incidents of the city's part in the entertainment of the Elks. The Philadelphia lodge has also liberally provided for the entertainment of the party during the session promises to be a brilliant one.

GET CARD CASES.

Before the local party departed yesterday each was presented with a leather card case, designed by Mr. Shanley, their regular Elks' traveling cards. An elk's head with the initials of the owner, B. P. O. E., is carved on the front and on the back is the inscription, "Oakland Lodge, No. 171, California, Grand Republic, Philadelphia, July 15 to 18, 1907." Included in the Oakland party are G. C. Morgan, William Woland and wife, Charles H. Rosenthal, John F. Ganique, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. T. L. Lunde, J. L. Daniels, Joe Bannan, Robert D. D. Elks, and Mrs. H. E. Clark. Also, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rogers, H. D. Marshall, and Mrs. J. E. Rogers.

Collmer, Miss May Smith, Mrs. A. C. Eldridge.

VIA OGDEN ROUTE.

The party is traveling over the Ogden route, and at Reno three cars occupied by Elks of Nevada will be attached to the train. The train will leave Reno at 10 o'clock, and will arrive in Philadelphia at 10 o'clock. The train will be switched on at Ogden. From there the California and Nevada parties will travel together.

Along all the route the train will run special over the Southern Pacific system. The train will leave Chicago for Philadelphia over the Pennsylvania lines. Transfer is to be made in the Union Depot at St. Louis. The train will be assigned the reserved here will be assigned the delegation in the new train.

BOARD OF WORKS

PLACE STREET LAMPS
At the meeting of the Board of Public Works today street lights were ordered established at Fifteenth and Dover streets, Sixty-second and Canning, Howe street and railroad crossing, Sixty-second and Racine, Thirty-second and Adeline, Fifty-seventh and Adeline. These lights were removed from downtown where electric trolleys have been placed.

A street light was also ordered placed at the head of Twenty-first and Webster streets.

The Yosemite Laundry Company was given permission to place fuel oil tanks under the sidewalk on south side of Forty-seventh street, 100 feet west of Geary street.

MORE SALARY.
The board recommended to the Council that Robert Johnson, gardener at Lafayette Park and high school block be allowed an increase of pay from $60 to $100 a month, this to cover all assistants he may have to employ.

Inspectors on Main, Lake and Thirty-sixth street extension sewers $8 a day.

FOUR HUNDRED PORTUGUESE MAKE UP BRILLIANT ASSEMBLAGE AT THEATER

PROMINENT MEMBERS OF PORTUGUESE WOMEN'S SOCIETY

Affair in Honor of Supreme Officers and Members of Board of Directors of Women's Society of St. Elizabeth in Grand Annual Session.

The Portuguese women's society of St. Elizabeth occupied the theater at Idora Park last night. The affair was given in honor of the supreme officers and the members of the board of directors, who are delegates to the grand annual convention in this city. Last night's event proved a delightful success. Fully 400 Portuguese men and women who represented the seventy-three councils of the society were present at last night's performance. The regular routine business of the order was conducted today in the Macabees Temple, where the delegates and supreme officers of the Portuguese society discussed ways and means for improving various branches of the organization. Much enthusiasm was manifested at today's meeting and a strong feeling of patriotism was displayed as a report of the prosperity of the order was read. The speakers spoke feelingly of the future of the order and much encouragement was given the members of the organization. Upon the conclusion of the convention a feast will be held at which all members and delegates to the convention will participate. The Right Bishop Don Henrique da Silva will address the convention on the evening of the banquet, as will many of the supreme officers and directors who will be elected tomorrow. The last day of the convention will be celebrated in a very pleasant manner.

FEARING ARREST, RUSHES TO COURT TO PAY FINE

W. A. Hawley Strikes Mrs. C. R. Simpson
During Physical and Vocal Encounter With Woman's Husband.

W. A. Hawley this morning tried to pay a fine in the Police Court before he had been arrested. Hawley, who lives at Twenty-fourth and Grove streets, secured a search warrant today for the purpose of obtaining office furnishings valued at $400 which he declared were stolen from him by C. R. Simpson at 714 Tenth street. Hawley and Simpson were formerly associates in the cash register business. Hawley accompanied an officer to the house in quest of his belongings and while there he became involved in an argument with Simpson, during which he admits he struck his former partner several times.

During the fracas he claims, Mrs. Simpson took her husband's part vigorously and while he was attempting to avoid her interference he struck her, he says, accidentally. Thereupon Simpson announced his intention of swearing out a battery charge against Hawley, which alarmed the latter greatly. He pleaded with the Simpson not to do anything like that, but for a time they were obtuse and Hawley dashed up to the City Hall and asked Police Court Clerk Smith if he could arrest by paying his fine before-hand. Upon being assured that he would not be sent back to the Simpson's again and prevailed upon them to refrain from preferring the charge of battery if he would have the search warrant withdrawn. Judge Smith agreed to dismiss the search warrant proceedings and now it is presumed that all the parties concerned are free and happy.

SPECIAL UNIFORM FOR SPECIAL POLICEMEN

Special policemen serving property owners in this city, though not paid by the city are under the jurisdiction of the Board of Police Commissioners, and the Chief of Police. It is proposed to require them to be uniformed according to regulations while on duty. The Board today decided that some sort of distinctive uniform should be worn to separate the regulars from the specials in the eyes of the public and malefactors.

Acting Chief Petersen was directed to consult the special policemen and ascertain what kind and color of uniform they favor, and also as to caps or helmets. Captain Petersen said that at present specials wear whatever they please and some of them present incongruous appearances, while a few with caps on, may be mistaken for sergeants of the regular force.

SAN FRANCISCO CROOK IS FOUND GUILTY

Harry L. Walters alias Charles Clark, was convicted by a jury this afternoon in Superior Judge Blawie's court for the charge of grand larceny. The jury was out about one hour and thirty minutes.

Walters was tried once before on this charge, but the trial resulted in a disagreement of the jury. Walters is said to have played a crooked game with Howard Smith, a Canadian bridge carpenter, who lost $40 by the game. After Charles Walters' from Emeryville to Nineteenth street and Telegraph avenue, the money was refunded.

Walters is said to be one of the most notorious bunco men of San Francisco. He has been arrested about forty times, but for some reason or other he was never sent to prison. He was about to be released on this charge when Captain of Police Peterson recognized the prisoner in the city jail and had him held over to the Superior court.

He will be sentenced Monday morning, by Judge Blawie.

LOSES UNWELCOME LOVER BUT CAN'T LOSE HUSBAND

Judge Ogden Declines to Believe Tale of Ah Quan's Gentle Passion for Pretty Chinese Girl-Wife.

Although Ah Quan, a San Francisco Chinese merchant, said he wanted to marry pretty Chung Kum Yoke, an inmate of the Presbyterian Mission in San Francisco, his intentions were doubted by Judge Ogden this afternoon and despite the Celestial's tale about his love for the girl, the court denied the writ of habeas corpus sought by Ah Quan to take his sweetheart from the Chinese mission. Miss heart from the Celestial's mission. Miss Donaldson, Cameron, superintendent of the mission, stated that she has had the girl in her home for the past two years and that she lived in terror of Ah Quan and his alleged love. She asked that he be restrained from seeing her.

After Ah Quan left the witness stand in Judge Ogden's court, it was found that Chung Kum Yoke was the same girl who last week sought the aid of the courts to annul her marriage she entered with Ng Juck at Hong Kong. It was learned that Chung Kum Yoke had married Ng Juck in order to beat her way into this country. For this reason Judge Ogden refused to grant the annulment, so Chung Kum Yoke is still a married woman.

Ah Quan was chagrined over the loss of his sweetheart, but said he would try other courts before relinquishing his claims for her liberty from the mission home.

THE MOUNTAIN OF REFORM HAS LABORED

THE WORK of purifying San Francisco has reached Dr. Charles Bixton, dentist, soldier, politician, boodler, bribe-taker, informer and "good dog," and has elevated him to the mayoralty. It is an anti-climax, a sorry, mournful faux pas that excites pity for San Francisco mingled with disgust for the huxtering and bickering among the evangelists of reform responsible for this miserable, feculent achievement.

In a joint debate an opponent characterized the campaign of General Sam Houston to the devil shearing the hog, great cry and little wool.

"Now we will shear the Runnels family, and we know we'll get wool," said Houston when it came to his turn. It was notorious that Houston's opponent was possessed of a brood of mulatto children.

The wool in Bixton's case is a sworn confession to the Grand Jury of the acceptance of sundry bribes. The fleece is abundant enough, but it is hardly worth the shearing. It can scarcely be accepted as a triumph for public decency. The Examiner thus enumerates some of Bixton's claims to public confidence:

"Mayor Charles Bixton, after being caught, cheerfully owned up to taking

"A $5000 bribe from the Telephone Company,

"A $750 bribe from the Gas Company,

"A $4000 bribe from the Trolley Company,

"A $500 bribe from the light trust.

"These things the present mayor of San Francisco admitted under oath before the Grand Jury.

"They were the only bribes he was asked about, but along Fillmore street they tell of his taking $30 for a small fight permit.

"They also speak of his getting eight silver dollars from a saloon keeper who was willing to pay that amount for an official favor.

"It is narrated that an overcoat paid for one of Bixton's official acts."

It is a sickening record. Bixton's record in the old board was discreditable. He was classed with the vicious minority, and everything he proposed or advocated was regarded with suspicion. His confession only confirmed previous estimates of his character. Why this filthy rogue should have been selected to head the city government passes comprehension. Are there no honest men in San Francisco fit to be trusted with the reins of authority that the reform captains should have anointed Bixton with the holy oils and presented him to the people as their ruler?

The trial of Louis Glass, now on before Judge Lawlor, will painfully disclose the disgraceful character of Bixton's elevation to the mayoralty. The indictment on which Glass is being tried charges him with bribing this same Bixton. It is expected, of course, that Bixton will go on the stand and publicly confess under oath to being a bribe-taker! The spectacle of a man just elected to the mayoralty by direction of the District Attorney's office going into court and admitting that he is a thief and a boodler will be a shocking one. It will be shameful beyond expression. The shame will be accentuated by the fact that he was elected by the votes of boodlers and thieves acting under orders given in secret by the graft prosecution.

Bixton's crimes were known long ago to Messrs. Spreckels, Langdon and Heney. He was placed at the head of the city government with a full knowledge of his infamy. The responsibility for his selection therefore cannot be denied or evaded.

Bixton's tenure as mayor will only be temporary, it is announced, but there is no apparent reason why he should be permitted to disgrace the city for a moment. Was there no honest man willing to program in the cause of civic purity? Was there any real necessity for making a confessed bribe-taker, a man of notoriously bad character and evil reputation, mayor for a single day? If Bixton is the best the graft crusaders have to offer, the strait of San Francisco is desperate, indeed.

According to a manifesto issued by District Attorney Langdon, the task of selecting a provisional mayor to succeed Bixton has been delegated to thirty delegates, to be chosen in equal numbers by the trades unions and the commercial bodies. This arrangement promises a deadlock. Should this convention be unable to agree on a man for mayor, Bixton will continue to disgrace the municipality by remaining at its head. But we have the assurance that he will be a good dog, and the city will be governed in some sort by a dog-whip. However beneficial this kind of government may be, it is calculated to bring the very name of reform into contempt. It is certainly not the consummation that the public had a right to expect from the crusade for civic decency.

Examples of Judicial Discourtesy.

A judge on the bench is to be presumed to be actuated by good motives, and the nature of his duties and the dignity of his office entitle him to respect and public confidence. Judicial process lies at the base of government and social order, and should be given due reverence. Judicial acts should not be criticized lightly or from the standpoint of personal animus, for the judge has many disagreeable duties to perform in holding the scales of justice. The very solemnity of his office invests him with dignity and his utterances from the bench with weight, a fact that claims due recognition from all who render obedience to law and feel a proper reverence for its mandates and ministers.

On the other hand, the judge owes proper respect to the judicial function. He must not allow personal animus to control his decisions and rulings, must maintain becoming dignity and a bearing that commands respect, also the gravity and calmness befitting the responsibilities of his high position. The decorum and courtesy he has the right and power to exact from others should be exhibited by himself. He should be fair. He should be guarded in his expressions while on the bench. The immunity with which the law and public sentiment surrounds him, should admonish him to control his temper, stifle his personal antipathies and restrain all tendency to angry and evil speech. Above all, it is incumbent upon him to be patient, forbearing and dignified. Abuse of power and privilege brings the judicial office into disrepute. Acts and words of discourtesy from the bench provoke contempt and discourtesy from the bar.

There is a moral in all this for Judge Dunne. The application of it is readily discernible in the following extract from the report of the proceedings while Schmitz was up for sentence:

"You have, by your wilful and criminal act—" went on Judge Dunne, heedless of the plea of the defendant.

"We take an exception to any cruel or unusual punishment by the judge of this court," broke in Attorney Metson for his client.

Judge Dunne looked down sternly at the bellicose lawyer, wrinkled his brow, and said severely:

"If I am interrupted again, Mr. Metson, I will send you to jail. You would be engaged in better business if you were asking this court to set a day to inquire into an accusation made against you here that you wilfully and deliberately attempted to tamper with and influence a witness in this case."

If Mr. Metson transgressed the bounds of propriety in objecting to the judge's remarks, he should have been rebuked and silenced, or committed for contempt. It was entirely proper for his honor to enforce order and hold himself free from interruption, for objection could just as well have been entered after as while the judge was delivering his lecture to the defendant at bar. But Judge Dunne retorted with angry recrimination. He even hurled a criminal accusation at the offending attorney. In so many words he charged Mr. Metson with the commission of a crime in connection with the trial of the case in which he was imposing sentence. Obviously he should have cited Mr. Metson for contempt or referred the matter to the District Attorney and Grand Jury for action in the premises—or else held his tongue. It was a gross abuse of the judicial prerogative to charge an attorney speaking for a client with a crime by way of acrimonious retort without taking steps to demonstrate the truth or punish the alleged offense. He took advantage of the immunity of his position to place a stigma on a man against whom he holds a grudge. It was neither dignified, decorous nor courageous.

On the following day, when Schmitz applied for bail, the following took place, according to the reports of all the papers:

"Attorney Frank Drew then arose and asked if Judge Dunne would allow his client to visit the office of his attorneys today. Judge Dunne answered very shortly, 'No.' Drew then entered into a lengthy argument that there were thirty-four indictments found against his client, and that many facts necessary for the defense are known by the defendant only. He was still arguing when Judge Dunne unconcernedly called another case on the calendar and the attorney left the courtroom, talking earnestly with the ex-mayor."

There was nothing to indicate that Mr. Drew's manner, tone or language was disrespectful. He was making a proper plea at the proper time and in the proper manner that it was entirely within the court's discretion to deny. Instead of courteously telling Mr. Drew that the court's ruling was final and further argument inadmissible, Judge Dunne contemptuously turned and ordered the clerk to call the next case. This was a breach of judicial decorum and an exhibition of bad manners. Such conduct on the bench tends to lower respect for judicial process and respect for the office of judge. The judge who treats his office with indignity provokes indignity.

Reform is making strange bedfellows in San Francisco.

A contemporary says it tries to be "with the people." Why not try to be right? The editor who tries to follow the mob instead of being led by his reason and his conscience never has a mind of his own nor any standard by which things are to be judged. The endeavor to cater to every popular caprice and to take a stand on every wave of public excitement is the bane of modern journalism. Such a policy is without conviction or morals. When an editor decides to follow the mob he usually adopts the policy of suppressing facts displeasing to the mob or tending to prove that the mob is wrong. Rather he colors his news to suit the temper and mental attitude of the mob and thus heats its passion and prejudice. So he begins by following a false scent and ends by cheering and leading on the blind chase of error. Knowledge, rational judgment, good citizenship, social, scientific and political progress are all based upon truth and independent thinking. The man who tries to be with the crowd instead of striving to be right shuns the truth and takes the popular whim upmost of the moment for his thought. When he boasts of this as a virtue he betrays both ignorance and lack of moral sense.

Pointed Paragraphs

Lord Cromer says that Egyptians have a propensity for hoarding gold. A native who recently died left $300,000 stored in gold in his house. Many Egyptians who are possessed of wealth will borrow money at interest to conceal the fact. Large quantities of gold coin are annually melted in Egypt and converted into ornaments.

Ian Maclaren, who died recently, was talking to a group of literary beginners in New York. "Begin your stories well," he said, emphatically. "There's nothing like a good beginning. Indeed, it's half the battle. Always bear in mind the case of the young man who, desiring to marry, secured a favorable hearing from his sweetheart's irascible father by opening the interview with the words, 'I know a way, sir, whereby you can save money.'"

"One wretched, blustery day," said a Pittsburg iron man, "I had a cap with ear tabs on when I met Mr. Carnegie on the street. He joked me about my ear tabs. He said there was an old Scot who always used to curl—you know the same—in ear tabs, but one bitter day he appeared on the ice minus the tabs and a friend said: 'Hullo, what's yer auld lug warmers?' 'Oh,' was the reply, 'I've never worn them since my accident.' 'Accident? What accident?' 'A man offered me a drink an' wi' the dashed flow I

SOCIETY: GOSSIP ABOUT THE SMART SET

The marriage of Miss Rosalie Sites and Leslie Budd Dunn will take place this evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Sites, in Magnolia street. The ceremony will be performed at 8 o'clock, the Rev. M. B. Fisher officiating.

The color scheme for the pretty affair is to be pink and white, and the gowns of the bridal party will be carried out in the same effect.

The bride will be attended by her sister, Mrs. N. F. Halsey, of San Rafael, as matron of honor. Another sister, little Ethel Sites, will attend the bride as flower girl.

Harold Sites will act as best man.

Only relatives and intimate friends will attend the ceremony, but two hundred guests have been invited to the reception afterward.

Mr. Dunn and his bride will enjoy an extended honeymoon trip and will return to make their home in Piedmont.

COUNTRY HOUSE.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bishop are giving a number of house parties at their Ben Lomond home. Mrs. E. C. Farnham was their guest recently for a week. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alderson, formerly Miss Cordelia Bishop, are in the Hawaiian Islands, where they are visiting relatives.

VACATION SCHOOL.

The vacation playground at the Tompkins school is a success under the direction of the Oakland Club and its capable chairman, Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain. One of the features of the school is the kindergarten cooking class and sewing class. The Board of Education has given the use of the school grounds and the money received from the Arbor Villa fete is being used to carry on the vacation work. The club president, Mrs. Cora E. Jones, has been fortunate in securing efficient teachers for the children.

The grounds are well planned for holiday fun with swings, hammocks, brooms shovels and pails, and croquet covers, handballs, footballs and everything to divert and interest the little ones. The older girls are taught plain sewing and the boys have a military drill.

All friends of the clubwomen and the children are invited to visit the playground.

VISITING FRIENDS.

Mrs. M. J. Layman and Miss Blanche Layman are entertaining Mrs. S. Kaeser, of San Francisco, at their home in East Oakland. Others who are guests this week at the hospitable home are: Miss Alma Heitman and Miss May Heitman, of Sacramento. Last evening the visitors were given a theater party, followed by an informal supper over which their hostess presided. Several other informal affairs will be given in honor of the guests.

The Laymanes with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hall Dodge returned on Monday from Del Monte, where they spent the midweek holiday. They made the run to Monterey and back in their large touring car.

AT DINNER.

J. Downey Harvey was host at an enjoyable dinner given Monday evening in San Francisco and followed by a theater party. The guests were: Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin, Mr. and Mrs. J. Athearn Folger, Miss Genevieve Harvey and Oscar Cooper.

GOING EAST.

Mrs. Wm. G. Henshaw and daughters leave soon for the East via the Santa Fe for an indefinite stay. They are shipping their fine touring car and will tour the eastern States by motor while away.

SUMMER TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Bishop, with their children, also Mrs. Bishop's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson, and Miss Amy Jackson, left yesterday for a three weeks' stay at McCrae's, near Cloverdale. They have taken the automobile with them and will enjoy several short trips through Lake County.

GOING NORTH.

A party of friends will left Monday for Alaska included Mr. and Mrs. David Gage, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Chamberlain. A month will be spent seeing the cities of interest in the north.

AT BYRON.

Among the arrivals at Byron Hot Springs during the past week were the following from Oakland:

Mrs. L. Schwartz and son, Eugene P. Lavorel, J. Pantoskey, J. L. Frankel, F. Zoebel, August Wellander, A. E. Johnstone, Mrs. Mathis, Miss Anne Martin, Mrs. E. B. Metzger, Mrs. P. Adams, Mrs. E. R. Tutt, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sloan, George M. Sacke.

From Alameda—Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Carman, Miss Letta Templeton, A. H. Van Cott, Mrs. E. G. Buckley, Mrs. Paul H. Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. E. Curtis.

LUNCHEON GUESTS.

THE MOTHER-IN-LAW PROBLEM

Little is said, outside the divorce courts, about the woman's side, and yet it is the woman who suffers far oftener than the man.

I have known a mother-in-law who turned her daughter-in-law into a bond slave. She dominated her son's house completely. She regulated the meals, picked out the wife's clothes, managed the children and left the woman an absolute cipher in her own home.

The mother-in-law problem is almost universally regarded as the man's problem. Cartoonist and satirist have alike united depicting the woes of the man who sees his wife's mother arrive with bag and baggage to take possession of his house, audit his expenses and police his going out and coming in.

Very little is ever said about the woman's side of the question, except what is said with vim and emphasis in the divorce court, and yet it is the woman who suffers from too much mother-in-law far oftener than the man.

The majority of mothers are so delighted to get their daughters married and off their hands that they are disposed to turn a kindly eye upon their sons-in-law, and to regard them as merciful dispensations of Providence that prevent Mamie and Sadie from having to work to support themselves, and permit Mamie and Sadie's mamma to have the belated hats and dresses she never could have when the girls had to be dressed to make a good showing in the marriage market. Then, too, a woman, being a woman as well as a mother, can always perceive the attraction that her daughter saw in a man, and so in spite of a few exceptions to the contrary, the mother-in-law generally treats her son-in-law as well as he will let her.

DON'T FAVOR MARRIAGE.

On the other hand no mother really wants her son to marry. She will often say that she does, but she wants him to put it off until he arrives at what she considers the years of discretion, which is somewhere about eighty or ninety. Nor does she consider that any girl in the world is good enough for her son, and no matter how much the man may be in love, or how long and how ardently he wooed a woman before she consented, his mother believes to her dying day that he was entrapped into matrimony by a designing mixx, and that his only chance of happiness is for her to stand guard over him, and keep his wife from henpecking him.

Above all, it simply tears the heart out of the average mother to think of her poor, darling, persecuted boy having to work to support a woman, even if that woman is his wife. Every time she sees her daughter-in-law with a new hat on, or a new gown, she looks upon her as a vampire who is sucking the very life-blood out of a defenseless man.

Nothing could be more inconsistently feminine than a woman's attitude on this subject, for she thinks that her daughter's husband ought to provide her with clothes that will enable her to look like an animated fashion plate, while she is firmly convinced that her son's wife ought to emulate patient Griselda in the poverty of her wardrobe.

All of this, and every married woman knows that such is the case, makes the role of the daughter-in-law far harder to endure than that of the son-in-law, and renders the daughter-in-law, who has to live in the same house with her mother-in-law, frequently as good an understudy of the early Christian martyr as this day and generation affords.

WOMEN VS. WOMEN.

There is no use in denying that women treat women far worse than they ever treat men, and that they are guilty of little tyrannies and persecutions that they would not dare to practice upon any man. I have known a mother-in-law, for instance, who turned her daughter-in-law into a bond slave, and who never permitted her to exercise a particle of individual liberty. She dominated her son's house completely. She decided on the furnishing, regulated the meals, picked out the wife's clothes, managed the children and left the woman an absolute cipher in her own home. She never left the husband and wife alone for a minute that she could help, and so far as the wife was concerned, played the part of the skeleton at the feast of life.

I know another mother-in-law who takes advantage of her daughter-in-law's absence from home to go through every closet and bureau drawer and desk and pantry, and who never sees a new article in her son's house without moaning and groaning over his wife's extravagance, although the wife, as a matter of fact, has no more than her prosperous husband is able and willing to give her.

These are not isolated cases, and ninety per cent of the married women all about us freely admit that they live in a state of armed hostilities with their mothers-in-law even when there is not an out and out break between them. It is a sad state of affairs for which the mothers-in-law are chiefly to blame, for being older, and knowing the world better, it should be their part to treat a delicate situation with more tact and patience than any young girl has lived long enough to learn.

ALL HAVE RIGHTS.

Every woman whose son gets married should try to put herself in the bride's place, and remember how jealous the young always are of their authority, how cocksure of their judgment, and how fond a young woman who has never ruled anything in her life before is of ruling her little kingdom.

The older woman should also reflect that it is every woman's inalienable right to run her house according to her own ideas. The mother-in-law in her day bossed her husband and children, and servants, and the daughter-in-law should have the privilege of doing the same in hers.

Also the mother-in-law should bear in mind that no human being, not even a mother, has a right to come between a man and his wife, and no matter what her motive may be, she imperils her son's happiness when she does. Nor can any third person, however near and dear, or however agreeable, be always welcome at the little confidences between a man and his wife. A woman wants her husband to herself sometimes. She doesn't want his mother, or sister always on the hearthstone listening to all her fond and foolish pettings and scoldings, and putting in their objections or amendments to all her little plans and schemes.

Therefore, the woman who would deal fairly by her daughter-in-law will cultivate some separate life of her own go off on long visits, have interests of her own, or, when this is impossible and they must abide continually under the same roof, she will spend much of her time in pursuits that she can carry on in her own room, and on many evenings leave the married couple to that solitude of two that is the sweetest thing on earth.

All of this calls for sacrifice on the mother's part, but motherhood is a perpetual sacrifice, and a son's happiness is worth even being considerate and decent toward his wife.

And perhaps—oh, surely, in most cases, a good mother-in-law reaps the reward of her virtues in making a real daughter out of a daughter-in-law. For daughters-in-law are not the ravaging beasts they are supposed to be. They are just women like you were once, and like your daughter is, dear madam.

Porch Furniture as Gifts.

When it comes to buying presents for the June bride, it is not everyone who can afford gifts of cut glass, silver or imported linens. A good plan is to judge the circumstances of the young couple, and try to make your gift one which will be in harmony with their future home.

Now that so many young couples start married life in the suburbs, where porches play so prominent a part in homes, it may be well to consider a gift for the outside of the house, and decide upon some pretty jardiniere, a wall pocket for flowers, a rustic table, or possibly one of the new canvas hammocks which are so popular this year. An attractive porch is the one thing which really costs thought as well as money, and yet no one seems to remember this new room in the house when buying a present for his summer bride.

'WHAT IS IT?' SAYS JUDGE OF SCANT UNDERGARMENT

Maker of Dainty Silk Wear Gets Judgment Against Prominent Woman But Can't Get Pay.

CHICAGO, July 10.—"What is it?" curiously asked Judge Lantry as Attorney Albert Schaffner held up before him, in the Municipal Court, something that might be the casing of a life-sized doll.

"I am informed," answered Schaffner, who is married and cautious, "I am informed that this is known as a suit of women's China silk undergarments with petticoat, all in suite."

"Thank you," said the Judge gratefully.

The Mme. Kugel Irresistible Garment Company, No. 2291 Broadway, New York, was suing Mrs. Burton Haseltine for $25, the price of the combination piece of silk lingerie. Mrs. Haseltine is the wife of Dr. Burton Haseltine, who has an office at 100 State street. She claimed that the China silk garment was a wedding gift to her from Miss Mabel Kugel when she married Dr. Haseltine in May, 1906. On the other hand, Miss Kugel, who formerly lived here and was Mrs. Haseltine's friend, contended

RED HAIR BRINGS SORROW TO TWO SINFUL HUSBANDS

One's Wife Has Sunset Crown: Other Has Egyptian Locks—Bothirate Ladies Ask and Get Divorces.

NEW YORK, July 10.—If every woman had red hair, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd and Mr. and Mrs. Rice might be happy together still. Also it is proved here that the truly cautious Lothario should never pay attention to a woman whose hair is not the same color as his wife's.

Mrs. Emma L. Lloyd was granted an interlocutory divorce from Fred Lloyd by Justice Blanchard in the Supreme Court yesterday. They were married in March, 1903, by the Rev. James B. Simmons at No. 129 East Fifty-fourth street.

Mrs. Lloyd complained that her husband associated with Miss Helen Bock, of Philadelphia, for two months in the autumn of 1905. Hyman Pepper testified that Lloyd and a "Mrs. Lloyd" lived in his furnished-room house in Philadelphia until Mrs. Pepper discovered that the real Mrs. Lloyd has fiery red hair, while the "Mrs. Lloyd" in her house had black hair. Then Mrs. Pepper showed the door to the couple.

As if to emphasize the obvious moral, Justice Blschoff, in the Supreme Court, gave Mrs. Fanny Rice an interlocutory divorce from John J. Rice, whom she married in October, 1902. Although there was much rice at wedding, they lived together only one week. Testimony was given that Rice, at a hotel uptown, introduced as his wife a large woman with near-red hair. Mrs. Rice is rather petite and a demi-brunette.

Another moral for the immoral: If you admire red-headed women, present your bride with several quarts of Zaza hair dye.

NO REST FOR WEARY LOVE

Police Compel Peripatetic Courting in This Town.

GREENWICH, Conn., July 10.—For the rest of the summer young women and their sweethearts of Sound Beach will have to make love peripatetically. They must exchange undying vows while walking. The cruel town officials have forbidden enamored couples from sitting on the stone fences, where so many hundreds of hearts that beat as one have palpitated in the moonlight.

Three constables patrol Sound Beach avenue every night after sundown now. Consequently, such painful interruptions as these are heard:

"Dearest, I love you. I swear that I will—"

"Get a move on now."

HOUSEHOLDERS OBJECT.

It is said the constables were posted on Sound Beach avenue, which has been Cupid's playground for years, at the request of New Yorkers who live near the shore, near Innis Arden, the T. Kennedy Tod place, and the Olde Greenwich Inn. It is said, too, that these New Yorkers discovered that young men were coming by trolley from Stamford every night to pay court to attractive waiter-girls, to pretty lady's maids and even to buxom cooks, who have been giving more thought to their affairs of the heart than to their duties in the New Yorker's households.

However that may be, a better explanation of the constables' presence is found in the signs that have recently been posted all over Sound Beach by the Woman's Auxiliary to the Improvement League there. The signs read:

"Keep the Town Clean."

To one somebody has added the words, in pencil:

"And the fences clear."

BID YOUR DEAREST GIRL GOOD-NIGHT AT 10:30

Mother Must Not Interfere Before That Time, Is Law Laid Down by Wise Magistrate.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The official hour to close your evening courting is 10:30 by the clock to a dot. At that hour, Magistrate Hyman, of Brooklyn, announced to love-lorn Christina Mohn yesterday she must say to her model sweetheart, Arthur Pico: "Arthur, darling, it's time for you to go."

Christina, who is bewitching, fifteen, and of No. 692 Chauncey street, had Mrs. Pico, her sweetheart's mother, and the green grocer, Harry Withers, in the Magistrate's court yesterday, demanding that they show cause why they interfere with the love-making of herself and Arthur. She branded Arthur as a model, but the defendants used to come into the parlor, turn down the gas and say harsh things at the most interesting moments. She wanted them stopped. She said it wasn't right that a man and maid, who wanted to get engaged, couldn't have a chance without any hindrance.

"What time do you generally leave this young lady at night?" asked the Magistrate of Arthur.

"Eleven," mumbled Pico, bashfully.

"Never afterward—and sometimes before, when we've had a quarrel."

"Well, you make it 10:30 to the minute after this," ordered the lawyer. Then, turning to the unsympathetic mother, he said, sternly: "Let these young folks alone. They aren't doing any harm."

BEAUTIFYING THE SKIN

There was once a girl who had a muddy complexion. It was not only muddy, but her face grew forests of blackheads from time to time. She was an out-of-door girl, playing golf and tennis a great deal, and she was careful about her diet; but still her complexion remained bad.

One day somebody suggested a very simple remedy, namely, apples, exercise and olive oil. She was to take a teaspoonful of olive oil before each meal. She was to eat two apples a day, one of them just before going to bed. The exercise was to consist of a daily walk—not a shopping expedition, not a going somewhere to carry something, but a brisk walk of at least two miles, with the arms swinging free and the skirts well up to boot tops.

The girl tried the remedy. She tried it, not as women too often try remedies, for a day or a week or a month, but she practiced it steadily for eight months. And her reward was a clear, smooth complexion which any girl might envy. Apples, regular exercise and olive oil had given her what she had longed for all her life.

IN STYLE.

In elbow sleeves and elbow gloves
And elbow hat,
She's clad just like all other doves,
Be sure of that.
She feels uncomfortable and stiff
Beneath her load.
She looks a sight, but what's the diff?
She's a la mode.

To network waists and network hose
She stoutly clings.
And network veils, and goodness knows
What other things.
An elbow-network dream, ye gods!
She takes the road.
She looks a sight, but what's the odds?
She's a la mode.

SANIPURE MILK

A Natural Food

Sanipure milk—breaks up into small, easily digested flakes when pepton is added—same way it does when it gets into baby's delicate stomach. Plain cow's milk curdles into an indigestible chunk.

Most infant foods contain too much sugar and too little fat and protein. Sanipure Milk has all the nourishment baby needs, in right proportions. You can regulate the quantity—our valuable book, "Baby's First Days," tells how.

The formula is on every can. Buy from Druggist or Grocer.

LATEST NEWS FROM WEST OAKLAND

MORE WORK LAID OUT FOR SOUTHERN PACIFIC YARDS

Burntizing Plant Will Be Set Up and Operated at West Oakland—Millions of Ties and Other Materials.

WEST OAKLAND, July 18.—Portions of the Southern Pacific company's portable plant for treating ties by what is known as the "Burntizing process" have arrived here and the plant will soon be set up and working in the railroad yards near the foot of Peralta street. This plant has been in use on the Oregon division near the source of supply of pine for railroad ties. But now ties are brought on steam schooners to Long wharf at less expense than the railroad can afford to haul them while shippers are clamoring to have fruit removed. It has therefore been decided by the railroad officials to transfer the Burntizing plant to the yards here and in future treat the ties and other wooden material used in repair work and new construction work at these yards.

Charles Adams is in charge of the plant. The Burntizing process is a preparation of chloride of lime, which has proved efficacious in preserving both redwood and pine ties from decaying. As pine ties are cheaper and more abundant than redwood, the Southern Pacific will in future largely use pine. The company has now ordered between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 pine ties delivered here to be burned in the plant.

Other materials of wood which are to be sent to the Southern Pacific railroad yards here include between 30,000 and 50,000 telegraph poles, 100,000 and 200,000 ties, 400,000 to 600,000 feet of ordinary lumber, 5,000,000 feet of shipbuilding lumber and 2000 to 3000 feet of stringers. These materials will enter into repair and new work on the Harriman roads.

New machinery for the big ferry boat Solano is arriving from the East. It is contemplated, to thoroughly refit the Solano so that the craft, the largest of its class in the world, will be fit to transport an entire freight or passenger train across the Carquinez Straits at a single trip in brief time than heretofore.

Superintendent W. R. Scott of the Western division of the Southern Pacific, and Master Mechanic W. A. Russell, yesterday started on a three days' inspection trip over the division lines.

Charles Wickstrom, master mechanic at Vallejo for the Southern Pacific Company has been granted two months' leave of absence.

John D. Slavin, who has been master mechanic at the Southern Pacific shops in Stockton, returned yesterday to the West Oakland shops as gang foreman. Charles Becklin, formerly of the shops here, will succeed Slavin as master mechanic at Stockton.

Foreman Rolla Monk of the Southern Pacific's shipyard at this point, will spend his vacation of two weeks at Truckee trying to lure members of the fishy tribe from their habitat in the deep.

Superintendent Niles Searles of the Southern Pacific Company's fire protection department on the Pacific system, visited the West Oakland yards yesterday. Everything here in his department is in serviceable condition.

GROANS TAKEN FOR INSANITY

Young Woman Charged With Being Mentally Deranged Is Set at Liberty.

WEST OAKLAND, July 18.—Having recently undergone a surgical operation, Mrs. Grace Vistante of Seventh and Adeline streets was sent from the County Infirmary yesterday to the County Court House, to be examined on a charge of insanity. Dr. Arnold of the infirmary, in an affidavit charging Mrs. Vistante with insanity, set forth that she talked incoherently and groaned.

Mrs. Vistante, a native of Mexico, was yesterday too weak to walk from the Receiving Hospital to the Court House, so Judge Ogden held the examination in her mental condition in a ward of the infirmary. The patient talked intelligently and expressed surprise at being in her present position.

"There must be some mistake," she said, when told that she was charged with being insane. "I am not insane. I am sick. They told me they were going to take me home, and they brought me here. My husband works in San Francisco, but makes so little that he cannot afford to come home and provide for a sick wife."

"As to my groaning while at the infirmary, anybody would groan if in such pain as I have been in since undergoing a surgical operation."

Judge Ogden expressed his opinion that Mrs. Vistante was perfectly sane and ordered her discharged. She is only twenty-six years old.

HOODLUMISM SEVERELY REPROBATED.

Dear Sir:—Will you kindly publish this letter in THE TRIBUNE if you can. I am unaccustomed to writing letters and I have no desire to see my name in print, but I would like to call people's attention to what I have noticed here in Oakland on the night of the Fourth, during the parade. The Chinese residing and doing business here turned out on our national holiday and gave an entertainment which did them credit. It was interesting from start to finish and all those that saw the parade were pleased with the efforts which our fellow neighbors made to show respect and independence day.

There were, however, some exceptions to be noted among the crowds who were mostly friendly and favorably inclined towards the Chinese. Hoodlums and a few white men, as usual to spoil the pleasure of the evening, and the principal object of their aversion was the Chinaman. At one place in particular outside of No. 865 Broadway (the Electric Workers' hall) there was congregated a gang who seemed to take an insane delight in tormenting Chinamen by knocking their hats off and pushing them over the wire ropes that lined the streets. If the fellows had been teasing everyone that passed it would have been looked upon as a carnival pleasure and taken as a joke, but nobody was molested but Chinese. To insult or tease a white man or even a Jew would possibly have resulted in a fight. So these big toughs being as cowardly as they are ignorant, bothered only the inoffensive Chinaman. One Chinaman did resent the treatment he received and got badly pounded by some young tough. Although the Chinaman was beat up he was game and would have won out if he had received fair play.

There were no police in sight while this fight and the other disturbances were going on. A couple of gentlemen interfered and stopped, or tried to stop the hoodlums from interfering with the passing Chinese, and they were threatened and abused by them. Why these fellows plague and torment a Chinaman is something I cannot account for, as the Chinese are a people who bother nobody. The abuse of them ought to cease and I think that the police should make a special effort to protect these people who are trying to get along peaceably with us by minding their own business.

With best wishes, I remain yours truly,

GEORGE M'GUINNESS,
761 Washington street, Oakland.

What is the world, with its noise and din?
What, with its joys, its all?
What of the morrow, or what it brings?
What if I rise or fall?
Banished be sorrow and parking care,
And give us peace and cheer!
Someone is coming who loves me—hark! The patter of little feet,
Someone is coming who waits for me,
Coming with footsteps fleet,
Heaven be blessed for that cheery sound,
The patter of little feet.

CONSTITUTION VOTE FOR LATER DATE

OUTRAGE. July 18.—The convention that early this year drafted a constitution for the proposed new State of California, convened here today after a two months' recess.

The convention had previously set August 15th as the date upon which the document should be submitted to the vote of the people for ratification or rejection, but in the light of later developments this date was annulled. The present work of the convention will be to set a new election date, to finish up a good deal of minor work and to adjourn this day.

The final adjournment is expected within ten days.

After the convention has adjourned the Republican State Committee will issue a call for a State convention to name a full set of officers. The Republican gathering had been called to meet at Julia July 12th, but it later determined to cancel this date and wait until the constitutional convention finished its work before meeting.

The Democrats have already named their county, State, Congressional and Senatorial tickets.

HAYDEN TAKES PLACE VACATED BY McDONALD

WEST OAKLAND, July 18.—R. Hayden has been appointed industrial commissioner of the Santa Fe, vice F. W. McDonald, who resigned to go into the insurance business. Hayden has been employed in the same line of work in Los Angeles for the same company and his arrival is looked for any day.

DOCTORS THAT CAN CURE SICK MEN TO STAY CURED

DON'T WASTE A SINGLE DAY. We occasionally come across stubborn cases—those that take months to cure. All of them could readily and easily be cured in a month if PROPER TREATMENT was had IN TIME. Fall off a car and get an abrasion of your leg, and you will hurry to the nearest surgeon AT ONCE. Get your very LIFE'S ESSENCE oozing away, and—LIKE A FOOL—you will hold nature will stop the drain UNABATED. Nature refuses to aid those who will not help themselves. It is NOT NECESSARY to come to us, but it IS NECESSARY to place yourself in the hands of a competent, regular medical practitioner. Don't be led by the nose by a quack, nor by photographs of men who do not want you. USE YOUR HEAD. And above all things don't think for a moment that TOMORROW won't be here and you worse off than today. "There are DOCTORS THAT CAN CURE AND DO CURE SICK MEN."

IT'S A MIGHTY BLOW AT PRICES AND VALUES

JAMES A. JOYCE'S SELLING OUT SALE

$50,000 WORTH
OF SEASONABLE NEW FRESH MERCHANDISE, REGARDLESS OF COST OR VALUE—NO MATTER HOW GOOD NOR WHAT THEY ARE WORTH.

SEPARATE OUR SALE FROM ALL THE SALES IN TOWN AND YOU'LL HAVE THE ONE BRISTLING WITH THE BIGGEST BARGAINS. HERE IS THE GREATEST ECONOMICAL OPPORTUNITY THAT HAS EVER PRESENTED ITSELF IN THE CITY OF OAKLAND. THE TRUE TALE OF THIS REMARKABLE EVENT. We have purchased for spot cash, as we always do, the entire stock of merchandise, consisting of $50,000 worth of high-grade goods from A. Meyer of Modesto, who was well known for his good goods—despite his thriving business through an unfortunate illness was forced into

45c on the $
WAS THE PURCHASE PRICE, AND IT WILL BE THE SELLING PRICE, AND IN VERY MANY INSTANCES FOR MUCH LESS.

RETIRING FROM BUSINESS

THE SALE IS NOW ON IN FULL BLAST

We want to impress upon you very strongly the necessity of taking advantage of this sale at the earliest possible moment, as the goods and the prices we offer them at are unheard of. We have secured many tempting bargains in the past and have shared them with our patrons, to whom we owe our popularity, but now we have secured the surprise of surprises by a master stroke of merchandising—all our former bargains are eclipsed by our present offering.

ALL PAST RECORDS BROKEN

We propose to make this sale the greatest event in our history; every dollar's worth of our stock has been cut in two to keep pace with this colossal sale—cost, former value and loss will not be considered—we are bound to sell the goods—we mean what we say and want you to regard every word as a cold fact.

NOTICE

In making this purchase we were compelled to take many lines of merchandise which we do not carry in our regular stock, such as LADIES', MEN'S and CHILDREN'S SHOES, MEN'S HATS, TRUNKS, VALISES and SUIT CASES. I have given orders to cut them deep to the very core, slaughter them, show them no mercy but get them out of the house. COME AND SEE—DON'T MISS 'EM.

The Most Eventful Sale Ever Held in California

will continue here day after day, with an increase of money saving opportunities, etc. Thousands of customers who visited us during the last few days will realize the full force of this statement—the size of the stock and the unavoidable confusion incident to starting the sale prevented our bringing forward some of the most desirable goods—however they are now being unpacked and placed on sale as fast as time permits—this is the time of all times to save money.

Entire Stock Marked Down

The price has now done this deadly work—everything throughout the entire stock has been cut in two, and in some cases marked for less than half; it's startling but absolutely true, right at a time when the season is on for these goods—do not decline the suggestion to come.

We Could Not Find Time For Price Quotations

All thoughts of profits has been dismissed and values in many cases shattered beyond recognition, and means a mighty money saving event in dress goods, silks, wash goods, curtains, linens, bedding, underwear, etc.; in fact, everything for women's wear and use.

Do Not Decline or Ignore the Suggestion Come!

JAMES A. JOYCE, 955 Washington St.
OAKLAND :: :: CALIFORNIA

The Crowds That Come

day after day and buy tell the tale to their friends and neighbors—since the inauguration of this sale we have been packed with seekers after economy and they were amply rewarded—we regret to state that we were hardly prepared for such an onslaught. We have now—however, increased our facilities and will give you better and prompt service—free delivery throughout Alameda county.

GENEROUS ACT OF EDUCATION BOARD

BERKELEY, July 10.—The members of the Berkeley Board of Education seem to be men of generous heart, according to the action taken by that body last night in the case of a carpenter, name unknown, who was hurt Monday morning while working at the Rose street school. Building Inspector A. H. Broad brought the subject to the attention of the board, making a strong plea in favor of the injured carpenter. He said that the man was hurt through no fault of his own, as the ladder from which he fell and broke his wrist was the property of the school department. His will be unable to work for several weeks and will also be compelled to meet a doctor's bill. Director Broad suggested that he thought it nothing but fair that the board should help defray the expenses. On motion of Director Leasing the clerk was authorized to communicate with the

DISCUSS IMPROVEMENT OF THE WATER FRONT

City Engineer Turner called the attention of the Board of Public Works today to the City Council resolution directing him to prepare plans and estimate of a permanent improvement of the water front between the Western Pacific and Southern Pacific terminal tracks, the work to cost not to exceed $1000. Mayor Mott said it would take several hours properly to consider the subject which should be taken up at a session specially fixed. The matter was then laid over to be hereafter taken up. man and assure him that the surgeon's bill will be paid by the board and the time which he will be compelled to lose will be made up to him

POLICE BULLETIN TO GIVE WEEKLY NEWS

In order to be up-to-date the Police Department of Oakland is to have an official bulletin published once a week at a cost of $4 a week for printing 200 copies. This bulletin is to contain reports of crimes and misdemeanors, lost and found articles, missing persons, the gist of new ordinances, telegrams received from other departments whose contents it is proper for the policemen to know, and a lot of other information. The Police Commissioners today authorized the weekly publication on the recommendation of Acting Chief of Police Petersen.

SHOULD CIVIL LAW BACK MILITARY RULE?

Police Judge Mortimer Smith will be called upon next week to decide whether officers of the National Guard are sustained by law in maintaining discipline among the men. Captain Wether of Company F has determined to make a test case of the refusal, of C. H. Davis, a member of his company, to parade on Decoration Day, when ordered to do so by Wether. Davis was arrested immediately after the occurrence and held before Justice Quinn, but it was decided that his case fell within the jurisdiction of the police courts, so a new complaint was made out, charging him with a misdemeanor. When his case was first called in Police Court No. 1, Davis' attorneys filed a demurrer, claiming that the offense was a military one and could only be punished by courtmartial. This morning Judge Smith overruled the demurrer, and the defendant demanded a jury trial. His case will be heard on July 15.

COMMENDS EFFORT OF TELEPHONE CO.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night commended the efforts of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company to do away with telephone and telegraph posts upon the streets in the residence section by placing the one pole in the center of block in the rear of residences and carrying all wires to the residences in that block from this one pole.

"ONCE A FAD"

but now the fashion, says a leading grocer, referring to quality in things to eat. If quality was a fad before the pure food act became a reality it is now a fact as well as a fashion. Facts are not always popular, but truth on the labels of your food supplies is now "mighty" and must "prevail." It won't go out of fashion either. Quality was always the fact and the fashion at Lehnhardt's. You never found any second-grade or sub-standard goods at Lehn's. They couldn't get a look-in.
